

UNIVERSITAS INDONESIA
veritas, probitas, iustitia

Prof. Dr. Parwatri Wahyono

Professor of Literature

She's teaching in Javanese Department, on subjects: Mastery of Javanese I - IV, Javanese Institution, Javanese Arts, Javanese Theater, Javanese Drama Analysis, and Nusantara Folklore. In UI Postgraduate Program, Literature Studies, she's teaching on subjects: Nusantara Written Tradition and Principals and Figures in Philology. This professor from Faculty of Humanities was born in Surakarta, Central Java, 27 December 1942 really likes to sing. She is the alumni of Faculty of Letters UI, Javanese Major (1975). She earned her Doctoral degree from Postgraduate Program UI Literature Studies (31 July 1993). Some of her scientific research works are: Self-Prepared for Entering New Era by Understanding and Implementing Traditional Wisdom as Implied and Explained in Javanese Teachings and Idioms, Paper In the Symposium: Vision of Reformasi with Cultural Insight Heading to 21st Century, FSUI Depok 1--3 December 1998.

Javanese Traditional Wedding Ceremony, Wulang Putri, and Women Position in Social Changes, Paper In International Symposium On Humanities V, Gajah Mada University, Yogyakarta 8--9 December 1998. Javanese Taste, paper in Seminar Day: Taste In Javanese Language, FIB UI, 1 September 2003. Wulang Literature from XIX Century: Serat Candra Rini A Cultural Analysis, an Article in Scientific Journal "Makara Social Humanities Series", page 72--82, August 2004, ISSN 1693- 6701. Worshipping Women As Generation Barrier, article in "Srinthil" Journal 7th Edition, page 48--64, 2004, ISSN:1412-274X. Dharma Ksatria Just Like What Has Been Taught by Patih Suwanda in Kakawin Arjunawijaya and Its Transformation into Classical Javanese Literature Serat Arjunasasrabahu, paper in Ancient Javanese International Seminar Commemorating Prof. Dr. P.J. Zoetmulder S.J, Ancient Javanese Language, Literature, and Cultural Analysis, July 2005. Javanese Idioms and Teachings, A Wisdom in Democracy, Paper in National Seminar On The Development of Local Language, Literature, and Culture as National Identity. September 2005. Efforts On National Character Development with Comprehension On Javanese Manner & Culture, March 2007.